

WHY DO I FEEL LIKE I BOTHER ADULTS?

#375 HOW IS AUTHORITY EXERCISED CORRECTLY? Authority is exercised properly when it is understood according to Jesus' example as service. It must never be arbitrary. Jesus showed us once and for all how authority should be exercised. He, the greatest authority, served others and took the last place. Jesus even washed the feet of his disciples (Jn 13:1-20). The authority of parents, teachers, educators, and superiors is given to them by God, not so that they can lord it over those who are entrusted to their care, but rather so that they might understand and exercise their duty of guiding and training as service.

SAINTS & INSPIRATIONAL STORIES

ST STANISLAUS KOTSKA

St Stanislaus is an example of how we can be called to be saints even though we are young. Our example may inspire other people or make them uncomfortable because they may not be living their lives in the most Christian manner. No matter the case, we need to know to be true to our faith and Christian identity.

BLESSED LAURA VICUNA

Blessed Laura lived a short life that was full of inspiring adults (the nuns and teachers that God placed in her path) and other adults who did not live moral lives. Laura prayed for her mother and never changed who she was or lost hope in God's goodness and mercy. We can see her example and pray for others always.
