CATHOLICQUIZ.COM

INSTRUCTIONS

2015-16

- CatholicQuiz.com is a resource that provides excellent Q + A referenced to the Catechism and the Bible in interactive quizzes and games directed at children in a fun and exciting online format.
- This resource is perfect for the “Catechism Challenge” found in week 5 of the program campaign manuals.
- CatholicQuiz.com is organized primarily for schools, so each boy is given a unique identification and password to login as a “student” of a “class” (the program: Father & Son etc).
- Once logged in the boys are presented with games concentrated on different aspects of Catholicism.
- As each boy plays he can track his performance and the totals of his class.
- As “teacher” (Program Leader) you are able to track each boy’s individual performance as well as all “class” totals. It is suggested that you provide the login information to the program directors to allow them to track their programs without going through you every time.
- This system allows the boys to play at home as well as during the club meetings (week 5) and still have their performance tracked and to earn points for their squad.

ACCOUNT INFORMATION

Click “My Account” and enter in the information asked for.

“Your organization’s information” is simply the club and its location.

The screenshot shows the CatholicQuiz.com website interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links: Play, Give and Get, Connect, Teacher Features, and Manage. Below this, the main content area is titled "MyCQ Teacher - Todd's Personal Homepage". It features several sections: "Play" with icons for Classroom Challenge, Scorekeeper, Games, Cardinal Challenge, Quizzle Me too!, Race the Clock, The Saints Are Coming!, and Surv; "Give and Get" with icons for Rewards Store, Give a Gift CQ Store, Downloads, and Submit a Question; "Connect" with icons for Tell a Friend, Blog, and Facebook; "Teacher Features" with icons for Build-A-Quiz, Bulletin Board, FAQs and Tech Specs, and Contact Us; and "Help!". A "Manage" section at the bottom left contains "My Account" and "Logout" links, with "My Account" circled in red. The footer includes links for Home, Terms of Use, Privacy Policy, Site Map, and Tell a Friend, along with a copyright notice for 2010 by CatholicQuiz.com.

The section titled Classroom Information is where you enter the programs, each program will be called a “Class” in the CatholicQuiz.com system.

The screenshot shows the "Classroom Information" form. It has two input fields, each preceded by a number. The first field is labeled "1:" and contains the text "Father & Son Program". The second field is labeled "2:" and contains the text "Junior Program". Both fields are circled in red. Below the fields, there is a link that says "Purchase additional classrooms".

WEEK 5 COMPETITION

4 Set up squads to compete in week 5 of the campaign

- Week 5 of the program campaigns features the Catechism competition. CatholicQuiz.com is an excellent resource for this competition. It is suggested that at the beginning of week 5 you create a student account for each squad. Keep the passwords and only let the boys login during the club meeting.

During the meeting each squad can come and answer the questions together, competing against the other squads. Which game the boys play is entirely at your discretion, just be consistent.

Father & Son Program - Add a Student (28 more available)

Enter student information below. A password is auto-assigned and listed for you. All student passwords are a saint's name followed by three digits. You will be able to print a copy of the User Name and Password after submitting this form. Click the Add button to submit.

Let each squad play enough rounds to settle any ties.

Optional: The points for each squad can be tracked all year long, so subtract the previous accrued points each time you use this competition. An excel spreadsheet is available for this purpose on the Club President Resource Center online.

CQ-IQ POINT TALLY

Wrap it up each week 6
by totaling the boy's points by squad

- For the final week of each campaign and right before the awards night, prepare by tabulating points for the boys' performance on CatholicQuiz.com by squad. Total the CQ-IQ points for each squad by adding together the total points for each boy in that squad. You can have a campaign CQ-IQ special award, for the boy that has the most CQ-IQ points.

As the year progresses, the boys' point totals will increase dramatically, but the relative ratios between the boys' scores will remain consistent. You can choose to simply add the totals year to date, or use the excel sheet to keep track of how many points the boys earn each individual campaign.

CHALLENGE

EXTRA

Challenge other clubs across the country

- At any point in the course of the year your club can issue a CatholicQuiz.com challenge to any other program in the country. The boys are given a time frame in which they can compete, and the points of all the boys from each program are automatically totaled. May the smartest club win!

To issue a challenge, simply click the link “Classroom Challenge” found next to the games. Choose “start a challenge,” specify a title as well as a duration and enter the names and emails of the Conquest Leaders of the programs you wish to challenge. If they accept, the challenge is on! The names and emails of every Conquest leader in North America can be found by clicking the “find a club” link on the Conquest webpage:

Search on the interactive map to bring up all of the programs in each state or territory.
